Shiloh Methodist Cemetery

Situate at the S.E. corner of Lot 16, Con. 12. Toronto Gore Twp.

Approximate area 1/4 acre, Fenced with iron posts, page wire with one strand barb wire at top, good condition. Two large elms and one clump of lilacs are the only trees: they stand at the N.E. corner at the Hart plot. Three spruce and one elm stand on roadway at front of cemetery.

All information in this report ~~is~~, beyond that gained by observation, was obtained from Mr. Norman McCabe, a 50 yr old farmer living on Lot 16, Con 12. Toronto Gore Twp. Address RR 3. Bolton.

Shiloh Methodist Church which stood near this cemetery site was erected of frame about 1840. In 1902 it was united with Colrain Methodist Church and a new brick building was erected on Lot 15, Con 12, The Gore, which was called Central Methodist Church. At the time of Church Union this congregation voted in favour of union; the Church is now known as "Central United Church".

It is estimated that about 100 bodies are buried here, altho only 24 graves are marked.

The cemetery still stands registered in the name of Shiloh Methodist Church.

The cemetery is well grassed and has the appearance of being cared for annually. All graves are grassed over and all receive the same attention.

A fund was raised by subscription of relatives to maintain the cemetery which amounts to about $300.00. The trustees in charge of the fund are

Chas Thomas RR#1. Nashville
Wilson Thomas -do-
Norman McCabe RR#3. Bolton.

The money is invested with The Toronto General Trusts and draws 4%.

The last burial was made in 1904-05; that of Lester Shuttleworth about 20 yrs of age; his grave unmarked. Burials for this district are now made in Bolton Cemetery.

Mrs McCabe is anxious that the cemetery be perpetnally cared for and willing to do what he is able toward that end. He believes the other two trustees to be of a like mind in that respect.

The following notes describing cemetery taken by Bob Penny:

Size of graveyard approximately 135' x 150'. Several mounds not marked by stones. Small marker, G.S., without headstone. Several stones braced with iron pieces. All stones but the Richard Roger one standing upright. That one is lying down, partly buried.

Thirteen tombstones, nicely fenced, 17½ in. cement corner posts. Corner parts braced with I beams.

Steel angle iron posts fenced with woven wire nine strands high. Barb wire strand on top. Gate posts same as corner posts. Cemetery neatly kept, free of thistles, etc. Shaded with two aged elm trees. Broken bases discarded - reset in cement.

The gate is between two large cement pillars. The cemetery is now disused.

church, having been moved a number of years ago.

Shilo was a primitive Methodist Church. This church was torn down to be used in the new Central Church at the corner of the Gore Road on the township line. (This church was built in 1902 and there must have been a union before that time of the Primitive and Wesleyan Methodist Congregations in this district.)

Most of the stones have been removed from the Tormore cemeteries to Bolton.

Deed for the church mentioned consideration of a penny from the grantees to the grantor.

Shilo

SE corner Lot 17, con. 12, Toronto Gore.

This is about an acre in size with only about 14 stones, surrounded by a wire fence and a church, having been moved a number of years ago.

The gate is between two large cement pillars. The cemetery is now disused.

TORMORE CEMETERY.

Buried in the Tormore cemetery is the Rev. Wm. Jolley who died in 1870 at the age of 80 years one of the early ministers of Shilo Church further south along the County Line.

This cemetery contains a number of grave stones all dating back to a period of from 1848 to 1870. It includes the four children of William [Woodill] and Mary Ann Thomas of various ages who died within a week of each other in January 1858.

We visited this cemetery because it was the only landmark which remained of the old community of Tormore and therefore, we felt merited a description under the town as well as under the regular cemetery chapter.

The tombstones are most of them plain marble slabs some of them braced with iron but they have broken again in another place. Evidently at least an attempt was made to keep the cemetery in good condition for a while.

The earliest gravestone is that of Mary Hart who died at the age of 4 in 1848. The sculpture's name is carved at the bottom of this monument. Hurd of Toronto.

Evidently there must have been earlier monuments than this but have probably completely rotted away, for Mrs. Thomas later told us that the Shilo church was built on the Hart farm but that the Harts were not the original owners, coming later from Yorkshire.

HOPE TO HAVE FUND FOR CEMETERY CARE

Shiloh Cemetery Directors Still Tracing Relatives of Interred Pioneers

MORE WORK PLANNED

Will Re-seed Some Portions and Level Reclining Tomb Stones

Trustees of Shiloh Cemetery, Toronto Gore, have been unable to trace the relatives of some buried there and the secretary-treasurer, W. Wilson Thomas, Nashville post office, will be glad to hear from any such persons. It is hoped to form a fund to provide permanent care for the grounds.

It was at a meeting of the plot-holders late in 1930 that trustees were appointed to look after this resting place of so many pioneer settlers. Early in 1931, the cemetery was levelled and given a thorough cleaning after which a fence was built with cement corner posts. Later in the same summer, the weeds and grass were cut a second time. This spring the trustees expect to re-seed some portions where the grass did not grow and some attention will be given to tomb stones which are in a reclining position.

A report of the secretary-treasurer issued last week showed that receipts, up to December 31, 1931, were $214.71; expenses, $94.95; leaving a balance of $119.76.
